

FALL CITY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

P.O. Box 293, Fall City, WA 98024

fallcityhistorical@juno.com

www.fallcityhistorical.org

FALL CITY NEIGHBORS

Volume 1, Issue 1

April 1998

Newsletter Index: a valuable resource

Fall City Neighbors is indeed a community treasure...now in its 18th year. And we can now access past issues easily, thanks to the availability of a Newsletter Index, created in (what else?) Microsoft Access. The index is currently up to date through the end of 2013, and Laurie Needham is adding data from 2014.

Pdf files for all the issues and the index are available through the Fall City Historical Society.

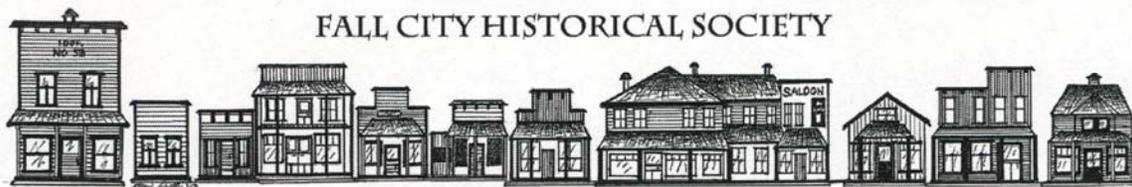

A look through the index reminds us that our most prolific writers—Noma Edwards (Garden Corner), Alan Bauer (Natural Neighbors), and Sharon Brown (Interviews and Business write-ups) - have contributed faithfully over the years, and we come to expect and enjoy their features each month. Sharon's in-depth interviews are a delight, and bring important family information together for the Historical Society. We look back at them often. More writers would be appreciated! Contact the editors if you'd like to write.

Thanks again to the businesses who support the NL with their ads and to all the folks in town who send in their contributions. The newsletter is truly a community success story!

Thanks again to NL editors over the years, as saluted in the 2013 Fall City Calendar.

FALL CITY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

P.O. Box 293, Fall City, WA 98024

fallcityhistorical@juno.com

www.fallcityhistorical.org

A sunbonnet, oh my!

Our first bonnet, generously donated by Leanne Adcox, and made by her grandmother Clara Burns Stow as part of her costume for the 1972 Fall City Centennial. This is a “serious” sunbonnet design, with a deep shade in front, a puffy cap, and an added piece to protect the back of the neck. There are two sets of ties, one attached under the edge of the shade and the other at the junction of shade and cap. Not sure how they would be used! The small 1972 photo of Sylva Hanson shows her wearing a similar sunbonnet.

We don't have storage space for large numbers of clothing items, but we'd love a couple of nice Centennial costumes, if you have them stored away and would share them.

SEEKING VOLUNTEERS

Like to organize? Good with numbers? Office experience? Comfortable with computer? Good at following procedures?

We'd like to find a couple of consistent volunteers who could train in to help with both office tasks and collections work. It need not involve a lot of hours, but consistency is important so that tasks can be mastered. Liking history is a plus! Please contact us at fallcityhistorical@juno.com.

We are blessed with two wonderful ongoing volunteers, our treasurer Teresa Appleseth and our Membership Coordinator, Bev Bethards. We would really love to have other dependable helpers.

In the spirit of “12th Man”, consider joining our “Gang of 12”!

SMALL LOCAL DISPLAY SPACE POSSIBLE

Thanks to local supporter and volunteer Eric Hollis, we have the opportunity to experiment with a small display space viewable through the window to the left of his office entry at 33511 SE Redmond-Fall City Road, in the block west of the Farmhouse Market. We are excited about experimenting with this space...always looking for local opportunities to display. Walk by and check it out! Let us know what you think.

Support for our work from King County Heritage 4Culture is gratefully acknowledged.